The standard consultation fee for private patients seeing a GP is $75 (with a Medicare rebate of $37.05) and longer consultations will incur a fee of $120 (with a Medicare rebate of $71.70).

Australian citizens who hold a Medicare Card will receive a rebate for these consultations.

Referred services (eg: pathology tests, radiology and specialist consults) may incur out of pocket fees for the patient. Patients are required to contact the provider for information regarding their fee arrangements.

TELEPHONE CALLS:

If calling for results, the receptionist will usually be able to help you by letting patients know when checked results require a follow up or have been marked as no action required. When a result has not yet been checked or a patient is requesting specifics about a result over the phone, a message will be left with the practitioner who ordered the tests. Reception may then inform the patient of the practitioner's response. In some cases the practitioner may request a follow up appointment to discuss the results.

If you wish to speak to a practitioner, you may be asked to be placed on hold until the practitioner is free or a message may be left for the practitioner.

In an urgent situation you will be put straight through.

Our practice is committed to providing preventative care. We may issue reminder notices from time to time offering patients preventative health services appropriate to their care. If you do not wish to be part of the system, please advise reception or your doctor.
